Course Description

ARH 2050 CAH-SVAD 3(3,0)History of Western Art I: Painting, sculpture and architecture from the Prehistoric Era through the Renaissance. Fall.

History of Western Art I offers an introduction to visual culture (painting, sculpture and architecture) in the European tradition from approximately 25000 BCE to 1400 CE; that is from the Prehistory through the Early Renaissance. We will discuss the characteristics and socio-historical context of the artistic cultures of the Ancient Near East, Egypt, Greece, Rome, Byzantium, the Middle Ages and the Early Renaissance, as well as select art from the continents of Asia and Africa. The main goal of this class is to become familiar with a core group of images and artists known as the “canon,” to understand the intersections of European tradition and global discourse, and to have a deeper understanding of art and its place in history.

General Education Program (GEP)

UCF's General Education Program (GEP) provides a cohesive learning experience across five key areas. Each course is designed to help students build essential skills and knowledge that connect across disciplines, preparing them for success in their academic, civic, and professional lives. This foundation equips students to make informed decisions and navigate a rapidly changing world.

Specifically, the GEP is intentionally designed to:

- Introduce students to a broad range of foundational knowledge.
- Provide students the opportunity to explore potential academic majors, minors, and careers.
- Equip students with the analytic and expressive skills required to engage in chosen pursuits.
- Develop critical thinking skills.
- Encourage lifelong learning.

Student Learning Outcomes

After successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. To question the continually changing category of experience that comprises the notion of art itself.

2. To be able to recognize a core group of images which are the foundation of the "canon" of art in the European tradition and interpret these works within the socio-historical and cultural context of their production.
3. Develop the skills of critical reading, visual analysis, and written expression.

Course Assessment and Grading Procedure

This is a fully online, asynchronous course. Although online courses are convenient, they also come with significant personal responsibility. You will have to effectively manage your time and develop strategies to turn in assignments on time. Each week, you will complete a visual art analysis exercise (posted in a guided discussion), respond to a classmate's post, and take a quiz (based on your textbook readings). Weekly assignments will be due on Webcourses each Sunday evening by 11:59 p.m. The goal of these assignments is to introduce you to key concepts while helping you develop skills in object-based learning, including compare/contrast and close looking.

This course includes a midterm and a final exam. Questions will be a variation of multiple choice, true or false, and short answer. The quizzes/exams will be drawn from your textbook readings and are open-book. As you read, take note of key learning objectives, dates, locations, and artists for easy reference. Your grade will include the following:

Visual Art Analysis Exercises – 35%

Quizzes – 25%

Midterm – 20%

Final Exam – 20%

Grading Scale

Communication Expectations

Each week, I will send an announcement that details the week's expectations and assignments. Please make sure you have notifications in Webcourses enabled so that you do not miss class-related emails or emergency announcements. Email turn-around time for correspondence sent to me is 24 hours for emails sent between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. M-F (for example, an email sent at 7 p.m. Friday night may not get a response until Monday afternoon).

Given the number of students in this course, the teaching assistant and I may not be able to provide individual feedback on each graded assignment. However, if you value feedback, just reach out, and we'd be happy to explain your score or offer suggestions as needed.

You will need to check your Webcourses site at least 1-2 times per week. As your ability to partake in this course depends on your ability to access and use Webcourses, you must address any questions or technical issues immediately in order to successfully complete the course. There are many resources on campus dedicated to your success in this regard. It is imperative to read all communications and materials on the Webcourses site for this class regularly.

It is imperative that all students who enroll for this course do so with the knowledge that they will be asked to read and write about with these topics in a mature, respectful, informed, and generous manner. Any blatant or intentional disrespect for particular cultures, beliefs, or practices will not be tolerated. Any blatant or intentional disrespect for the informed ideas or experiences of other students will not be tolerated. Should you have concerns about course materials, it is important to contact your instructor immediately.

Policies for Course Grade

Missed/Late Assignments

Assignments are due as indicated so that you stay consistently engaged with class content. (Weekly discussion posts and quizzes are due Sundays at 11:59 pm). Late submissions will be accepted up to 5 days past the deadline, but subject to a 5% deduction per day (including weekends). These deductions are automatically calculated by Webcourses. Assignments submitted more than 5 days late will receive a grade of zero. I understand that unexpected circumstances happen, so I will drop the lowest grade for one quiz and one discussion post at the end of the semester.

Makeup exams for the Midterm or Final will only be granted in cases of documented emergencies (e.g., medical illness, university-sanctioned travel, etc.).

Make-up Assignments for Authorized University Event or Co-curricular Activities

Students who represent the university at an authorized event or activity (for example, student athletes) and who are unable to meet a course deadline due to a conflict with that event must provide the instructor with documentation in advance to arrange a make-up. No penalty will be applied if the student gives advance notice and communicates with the instructor following UCF policy. In the case of an authorized university activity, it is your responsibility to show the instructor a signed copy of the Program Verification Form for which you will be absent, prior to the class in which the absence occurs or due date you need extended. For more information, see UCF Policy 4-401.

Make-up Assignments for Religious Observances

A student who desires to observe a religious holy day of his or her religious faith must notify their instructor as soon as practicable prior to the observance. Students who are absent because of religious observances will be permitted a reasonable amount of time to complete any missed work. For more information, see UCF Regulation 5-020.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Use Policy

Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI) is governed on an assignment-by-assignment basis. For each assignment, you must carefully review the instructions to determine whether AI-generated content is permitted. In some cases, you may be permitted (though not required) to use GenAI. When using GenAI, you must disclose specifically where and how it was used in the process of completing the assignment. Unless explicitly allowed, all components of your work must be fully prepared by you. It should also be cited. For example, text generated from Copilot should include a citation such as: "Copilot. Accessed 2023-12-03. Prompt: 'Summarize the Geneva Convention in 50 words.' Generated using Copilot." Any attempt to represent GenAI output inappropriately as your own work will be treated as plagiarism. Ultimately, students are responsible for the accuracy and veracity of submitted work whether AI-generated or not.

Disability Access & Accommodations

The University of Central Florida is committed to providing equal access to all students with disabilities (ADHD, learning disabilities, Autism, chronic medical conditions, physical disabilities, etc.). To receive consideration for reasonable disability-related course accommodations, disabled students must contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) and complete the steps required for SAS to review accommodation requests. More information can be found on the UCF Student Accessibility Services website under the Start Here tab or by contacting SAS directly (Ferrell Commons 185; sas@ucf.edu; Phone - 407-823-2371).

Approved accommodations are shared with course instructors via the SAS Course Accessibility Letter. Implementing certain accommodations may require discussion about specific considerations of the course design, course learning objectives, and the individual academic and course challenges experienced by the student. While students with disabilities or chronic health needs are also encouraged to discuss any course concerns with professors in addition to contacting SAS, professors are not required to facilitate disability-related adjustments to the course unless the professor has received a Course Accessibility Letter from SAS that outlines approved accommodations.

Academic Integrity

Students should familiarize themselves with UCF's Code of Conduct at Student Conduct and Integrity Office. According to Section 1, "Academic Misconduct," students are prohibited from engaging in:

1. Academic misconduct is defined as any submitted work or behavior that obstructs the instructor of record's ability to accurately assess the student's understanding or completion of course materials or degree requirements (e.g., assignment, quiz, and/or exam). Examples of academic misconduct include but are not limited to: plagiarism, unauthorized assistance to complete an academic exercise; unauthorized communication with others during an examination, course assessment, or project; falsifying or misrepresenting academic work; providing misleading information to create a personal advantage to complete course/degree requirements; or multiple submission(s) of academic work without permission of the instructor of record.
2. Any student who knowingly helps another violate academic behavior standards is also in violation of the standards.
3. Commercial Use of Academic Material. Selling of course material to another person and/or uploading course material to a third-party vendor without authorization or without the express permission of the University and the instructor of record. Course materials include but are not limited to class notes, the instructor of record's slide deck, tests, quizzes, labs, instruction sheets, homework, study guides, and handouts.
4. Soliciting assistance with academic coursework and/or degree requirements. The solicitation of assistance with an assignment, lab, quiz, test, paper, etc., without authorization of the instructor of record or designee is prohibited. This includes but is not limited to asking for answers to a quiz, trading answers, or offering to pay another to complete an assignment. It is considered Academic Misconduct to solicit assistance with academic coursework and/or degree requirements, even if the solicitation did not yield actual assistance (for example, if there was no response to the solicitation).

Responses to Academic Dishonesty, Plagiarism, or Cheating

Students should also familiarize themselves with the procedures for academic misconduct in UCF's student handbook, The Golden Rule. UCF faculty members have a responsibility for students' education and the value of a UCF degree, and so seek to prevent unethical behavior and respond to academic misconduct when necessary. Penalties for violating rules, policies, and instructions within this course can range from a zero on the exercise to an "F" letter grade in the course. In addition, an Academic Misconduct report could be filed with the Office of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity, which could lead to disciplinary warning, disciplinary probation, or deferred suspension or separation from the University through suspension, dismissal, or expulsion with the addition of a "Z" designated on one's transcript.

Being found in violation of academic conduct standards could result in a student having to disclose such behavior on a graduate school application, being removed from a leadership position within a student organization, the recipient of scholarships, participation in University activities such as study abroad, internships, etc.

Let's avoid all of this by demonstrating values of honesty, trust, and integrity. No grade is worth compromising your integrity and moving your moral compass. Stay true to doing the right thing: take the zero, not a shortcut.

Title IX

Title IX prohibits sex discrimination, including sexual misconduct, sexual violence, sexual harassment, and retaliation. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can find resources available to support the victim, including confidential resources and information concerning reporting options at Let's Be Clear and UCF Cares.

For more information on access and community engagement, Title IX, accessibility, or UCF's complaint processes contact:

- The Ombuds Office is a safe place to discuss concerns.

Reporting an Incident or Issue

If you believe you have experienced discrimination by any faculty or staff member, contact the Office of Nondiscrimination & Accommodations Compliance via the ONAC website or at 407-823-1336. You can also choose to report using the UCF Integrity Line either anonymously or as yourself at 1-855-877-6049 or by using the online form. UCF cares about you and takes every report seriously. For more information see the Reporting an Incident or Issue Webpage.

Deployed Active-Duty Military Students

Students who are deployed active-duty military and/or National Guard personnel and require accommodation should contact their instructors as soon as possible after the semester begins and/or after they receive notification of deployment to make arrangements.

Campus Safety

At UCF's Public Safety and Police, safety is the top priority. Emergencies on campus are rare, but if one should arise, it's important to be familiar with some basic safety and security concepts.

- In an emergency, always dial 911.
- Every UCF Classroom has an Emergency Procedure Guide posted on a wall near the door, which will show you how to respond to a - variety of situations. This guide can also be found online here.

- In the event of an active threat, remember AVOID, DENY, DEFEND. Choose the best course of action and act immediately. Watch the video here to learn more.
    - AVOID. Pay attention to your surroundings and have an exit plan. Get as much distance and as many barriers between you and the threat as quickly as possible.
    - DENY. When avoiding is difficult or impossible, deny the threat access to you and your space. Lockdown by creating barriers, turning the lights off and remaining quiet and out of sight. Make sure your phone is silenced, but do not turn it off.
    - DEFEND. When you are unable to put distance between yourself and the threat, be prepared to protect yourself. Commit to your actions, be aggressive and do not fight fairly. Do whatever it takes to survive.
  - For emergencies on campus, UCF will utilize the UCF Alert system. All UCF students, faculty, and staff are automatically enrolled to receive these email and text alerts, however, it's a good idea to frequently ensure your contact information is up to date.

Financial Aid Accountability

All instructors are required to document students' academic activity at the beginning of each course. In order to document that you began this course, please complete this activity by the end of the first week of classes or as soon as possible after adding the course. Failure to do so may result in a delay in the disbursement of your financial aid.
