Course Description

ARH 3610 CAH-VISARTDES 3(3,0)American Art: PR: ARH 2050 and ARH 2051 or C.I. Surveys American Art to 1900. Leading artists are identified and representative examples of their work are discussed within the context of major themes, patterns, sources. Spr

This course presents an inclusive introduction to American visual culture from early history to the present, relating art and artists to diverse social, political, and cultural contexts. We will also consider, as institutions nationwide prepare celebrations for the United States' upcoming 250th anniversary, how nationhood and identity are expressed through visual culture.

Student Learning Outcomes

After successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Identify and critically engage with art and history of the United States
- Appreciate the challenges inherent in studying art history and use art to make connections between the past and present
- Demonstrate the ability to use discourse, analysis, and evaluation skills appropriate to art history

Required Course Materials and Resources

This is America: Re-viewing the Art of the United States

Authors: Watson, Keri and Keidra Daniels Navaroli

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Publication Date: 2023

Notes: Additional course reading materials will be posted online in the modules.

Course Assessment and Grading Procedure

This is a fully online, asynchronous course. There is no weekly penalty for late work (due dates serve to help you stay on task). However, I expect you to designate your time effectively. Assignments will pile up quickly and become unmanageable if not attended to weekly. If you have problems with self-pacing or procrastination, you will not be successful in this course.

Students will complete weekly modules and reading assignments on Webcourses which include: submitting one (1) essay, completing one (1) quiz, and posting one (1) discussion and response each week. At the end of the semester, students will complete the final exam. This course will demand careful observation, close reading, college-level writing, active participation, and critical thought. You are encouraged make relevant connections across materials and, when prompted, share your experience/expertise.

Exams: You will complete weekly quizzes and 1 final exam this semester.

These quizzes/exam will be drawn from your textbook. Completing reading questions thoroughly and taking notes on key learning objectives of each modules are the best ways to prepare. Quizzes make up 15% of your final course grade and the final exam is 15% (30% total).

Reading Responses: For each module, you will submit an essay of 300-500 words that responds to the prompt questions provided. Please use in-text citations and include correctly formatted bibliographic information for your sources at the end of your response; use whichever citation format (e.g. MLA, Chicago Style, APA) with which you are most familiar. Essay assignments will be due on Webcourses each Saturday evening by 11:59 p.m. and must be submitted as Word documents or PDFs. (Don't forget to include your name in the document's text!) Essays are 40% of your grade.

Discussion Posts: Additionally, each week you will respond to a discussion prompt focused on your interaction with an assigned online project (exhibition, archive, etc.). These short, more informal responses provide an opportunity for you to engage with one another on current topics within the field. I try to include a mix of projects so that you can engage with the type of work currently shaping the field's digital practices. (You are encouraged to consider these projects critically and talk about components you feel are more/less successful.) Besides your own post, you are asked to reply to at least one observation or takeaway from another classmate. Discussion posts will also be due on Webcourses each Saturday evening by 11:59 p.m. Discussions are 30% of your grade.

All work and your final exam must be submitted by Sunday, May 3 at 11:59 pm.

Please respect your fellow students and your professor. Dialogue, informed debate, and risk taking are all part of learning, and all students in the course must participate in maintaining a safe, respectful, rigorous, and generous environment for this to happen. If you have any concerns regarding these policies, please notify your instructor immediately.

Policies for Course Grade

With the exception of the final exam, all the modules and assignments are open. You are welcome to work ahead and submit work at any time. There is no extra credit. There is no penalty for late work, but all work and your final must be submitted by Sunday, May 3 at 11:59 pm.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Use Policy

As a student and practitioner, I recognize the reality of artificial intelligence's use in higher education classrooms. However, only some Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools, such as spell-check or Grammarly, are acceptable for use in this class. Use of other AI tools via website, app, or any other access, is not permitted. In the context of this course's assignments, representing work created by AI as your own is plagiarism. Check with me to be sure of acceptable use if you have any questions.

Disability Access & Accommodations

The University of Central Florida is committed to providing equal access to all students with disabilities (ADHD, learning disabilities, Autism, chronic medical conditions, physical disabilities, etc.). To receive consideration for reasonable disability-related course accommodations, disabled students must contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) and complete the steps required for SAS to review accommodation requests. More information can be found on the UCF Student Accessibility Services website under the Start Here tab or by contacting SAS directly (Ferrell Commons 185; sas@ucf.edu; Phone - 407-823-2371).

Approved accommodations are shared with course instructors via the SAS Course Accessibility Letter. Implementing certain accommodations may require discussion about specific considerations of the course design, course learning objectives, and the individual academic and course challenges experienced by the student. While students with disabilities or chronic health needs are also encouraged to discuss any course concerns with professors in addition to contacting SAS, professors are not required to facilitate disability-related adjustments to the course unless the professor has received a Course Accessibility Letter from SAS that outlines approved accommodations.

Academic Integrity

Students should familiarize themselves with UCF's Code of Conduct at Student Conduct and Integrity Office. According to Section 1, "Academic Misconduct," students are prohibited from engaging in:

1. Academic misconduct is defined as any submitted work or behavior that obstructs the instructor of record's ability to accurately assess the student's understanding or completion of course materials or degree requirements (e.g., assignment, quiz, and/or exam). Examples of academic misconduct include but are not limited to: plagiarism, unauthorized assistance to complete an academic

- exercise; unauthorized communication with others during an examination, course assessment, or project; falsifying or misrepresenting academic work; providing misleading information to create a personal advantage to complete course/degree requirements; or multiple submission(s) of academic work without permission of the instructor of record.
2. Any student who knowingly helps another violate academic behavior standards is also in violation of the standards.
 3. Commercial Use of Academic Material. Selling of course material to another person and/or uploading course material to a third-party vendor without authorization or without the express permission of the University and the instructor of record. Course materials include but are not limited to class notes, the instructor of record's slide deck, tests, quizzes, labs, instruction sheets, homework, study guides, and handouts.
 4. Soliciting assistance with academic coursework and/or degree requirements. The solicitation of assistance with an assignment, lab, quiz, test, paper, etc., without authorization of the instructor of record or designee is prohibited. This includes but is not limited to asking for answers to a quiz, trading answers, or offering to pay another to complete an assignment. It is considered Academic Misconduct to solicit assistance with academic coursework and/or degree requirements, even if the solicitation did not yield actual assistance (for example, if there was no response to the solicitation).

Responses to Academic Dishonesty, Plagiarism, or Cheating

Students should also familiarize themselves with the procedures for academic misconduct in UCF's student handbook, The Golden Rule. UCF faculty members have a responsibility for students' education and the value of a UCF degree, and so seek to prevent unethical behavior and respond to academic misconduct when necessary. Penalties for violating rules, policies, and instructions within this course can range from a zero on the exercise to an "F" letter grade in the course. In addition, an Academic Misconduct report could be filed with the Office of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity, which could lead to disciplinary warning, disciplinary probation, or deferred suspension or separation from the University through suspension, dismissal, or expulsion with the addition of a "Z" designated on one's transcript.

Being found in violation of academic conduct standards could result in a student having to disclose such behavior on a graduate school application, being removed from a leadership position within a student organization, the recipient of scholarships, participation in University activities such as study abroad, internships, etc.

Let's avoid all of this by demonstrating values of honesty, trust, and integrity. No grade is worth compromising your integrity and moving your moral compass. Stay true to doing the right thing: take the zero, not a shortcut.

Title IX

Title IX prohibits sex discrimination, including sexual misconduct, sexual violence, sexual harassment, and retaliation. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can find resources available to support the victim, including confidential resources and information concerning reporting options at Let's Be Clear and UCF Cares.

For more information on access and community engagement, Title IX, accessibility, or UCF's complaint processes contact:

- Title IX – ONAC – Office of Nondiscrimination & Accommodations Compliance & askanadvocate@ucf.edu
- Disability Accommodation – Student Accessibility Services – Student Accessibility Services & sas@ucf.edu
- Access and Community Engagement (including the Ginsberg Center for Inclusion and Community Engagement, Military and Veteran Student Success, and HSI Initiatives)
- UCF Compliance and Ethics Office – Compliance, Ethics, and Risk Office & complianceandethics@ucf.edu
- The Ombuds Office is a safe place to discuss concerns.

Reporting an Incident or Issue

If you believe you have experienced discrimination by any faculty or staff member, contact the Office of Nondiscrimination & Accommodations Compliance via the ONAC website or at 407-823-1336. You can also choose to report using the UCF Integrity Line either anonymously or as yourself at 1-855-877-6049 or by using the online form. UCF cares about you and takes every report seriously. For more information see the Reporting an Incident

or Issue Webpage.

Deployed Active-Duty Military Students

Students who are deployed active-duty military and/or National Guard personnel and require accommodation should contact their instructors as soon as possible after the semester begins and/or after they receive notification of deployment to make arrangements.

Campus Safety

At UCF's Public Safety and Police, safety is the top priority. Emergencies on campus are rare, but if one should arise, it's important to be familiar with some basic safety and security concepts.

- In an emergency, always dial 911.
- Every UCF Classroom has an Emergency Procedure Guide posted on a wall near the door, which will show you how to respond to a variety of situations. This guide can also be found online here.
- In the event of an active threat, remember AVOID, DENY, DEFEND. Choose the best course of action and act immediately. Watch the video here to learn more.
 - AVOID. Pay attention to your surroundings and have an exit plan. Get as much distance and as many barriers between you and the threat as quickly as possible.
 - DENY. When avoiding is difficult or impossible, deny the threat access to you and your space. Lockdown by creating barriers, turning the lights off and remaining quiet and out of sight. Make sure your phone is silenced, but do not turn it off.
 - DEFEND. When you are unable to put distance between yourself and the threat, be prepared to protect yourself. Commit to your actions, be aggressive and do not fight fairly. Do whatever it takes to survive.
- For emergencies on campus, UCF will utilize the UCF Alert system. All UCF students, faculty, and staff are automatically enrolled to receive these email and text alerts, however, it's a good idea to frequently ensure your contact information is up to date.

Financial Aid Accountability

All instructors are required to document students' academic activity at the beginning of each course. In order to document that you began this course, please complete this activity by the end of the first week of classes or as soon as possible after adding the course. Failure to do so may result in a delay in the disbursement of your financial aid.
