Course Description

ARH 3880 CAH-VISARTDES 3(3,0)History of Immersive Experience: PR: Earn a minimum grade of C in each of the following:ENC1102 - Composition II (3) Examines the history of immersive experiences from late eighteenth century pleasure gardens to contemporary theme parks. Fall

The goal of this course is to consider the history of immersive experiences. An immersive experience describes the perception of being surrounded by – and being a part of – a different environment than what you encounter in your normal day-to-day life. We will analyze the history and theory behind some of the world's most famous themed spaces and relate their development to the large-scale historical movements surrounding their production. Not only will students complete the course with considerable knowledge of design and narrative theory, but they will also better understand the artistic importance and history of immersive experience.

Please note that this course is offered in modality "WW," which means asynchronous web-based.

Student Learning Outcomes

After successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Outline the important historical sites, designers, and texts that have influenced immersive experience
- Recognize the qualities of the built environment
- Evaluate various types of immersive experiences and measure their effectiveness
- Identify and discuss essential literature on the topic

Required Course Materials and Resources

All course materials are available online through Webcourses and include original module material plus selections from publications.

Course Assessment and Grading Procedure

This course is fully online and delivered through Webcourses. It is divided into modules, one for each week of the course. Each week requires a significant time commitment: you will be responsible for reading material posted in the modules and discussion boards. Your understanding of the module's material is assessed through discussion board posts and weekly quizzes.

There is no weekly penalty for late work (due dates serve to help you stay on task). However, this is an upper level course, and I expect you to designate your time effectively. Assignments will pile up quickly and become unmanageable if not attended to weekly. If you have problems with self-pacing or procrastination, you will not be successful in this course. All work and your final project must be submitted by Sunday, December 6 at 11:59 pm.

Discussion Board Posts (50%)

This course is divided into modules. Each week you will need to complete that week's module, which includes posting two times on the discussion board: 1) a substantive post that responds to that week's prompt and 2) a responsive post that responds to the post of someone else. Your substantive post should be about 200 words and your reply to someone else's post should be about 50-75 words. You need to post one substantive post and one responsive post each week. These 2 posts will be due by Saturday at 11:59 pm. Post your first post by Friday, so that others have time to read your post and reply. Please post these two posts within a day of one another. The idea is to simulate a conversation. You must post two times each week to receive full credit.

Quizzes (35%)

Each week's module will conclude with a quiz on that week's material (module material, discussion board information, and readings), due by Sunday at 11:59 pm. Each quiz will have five questions worth 5 points each. They are a mixture of multiple-choice and true-false questions. You will have 30 minutes to complete each week's quiz.

Application Activity/Final Project (15%)

The course concludes with a final project. For this project, you will write a summary evaluative report of an immersive experience. Think about the following: when was this experience developed; where is it located? what are its key features; how are they arranged; who is the intended audience; how many people experience this attraction each year? what types of technologies does it depend upon? Please include images in your report.

It is imperative that all students who enroll for this course do so with the knowledge that they will be asked to read and write about with these topics in a mature, respectful, informed, and generous manner. Any blatant or intentional disrespect for particular cultures, beliefs, or practices will not be tolerated. Any blatant or intentional disrespect for the informed ideas or experiences of other students will not be tolerated. Should you have concerns about course materials, it is important to contact your instructor immediately.

Grading Scale

Grading Scale

Communication Expectations

Each week, I will send an announcement that details the week's expectations and assignments. Please make sure you have notifications in Webcourses enabled so that you do not miss class-related emails or emergency announcements. Email turn-around time for correspondence sent to me is 24 hours for emails sent between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. M-F (for example, an email sent at 7 p.m. Friday night may not get a response until Monday afternoon). Given the number of students in this course, I may not be able to provide individual feedback on each graded assignment. However, if you value feedback, just reach out, and I'd be happy to explain your score or offer suggestions as needed.

You will need to check your Webcourses site at least 1-2 times per week. As your ability to partake in this course depends on your ability to access and use Webcourses, you must address any questions or technical issues immediately in order to successfully complete the course. There are many resources on campus dedicated to your success in this regard. It is imperative to read all communications and materials on the Webcourses site for this class regularly.

Policies for Course Grade

There is no weekly penalty for late work. You have until Sunday, December 6 at 11:59 pm to submit course content. Due dates serve to help you stay on task, but this is an upper level course, and I expect you to designate your time effectively. Assignments will pile up quickly and become unmanageable if not attended to weekly. If you have major problems with self-pacing or procrastination, you will not be successful in this course. With the exception of the final exam, all the modules and assignments are open. You are welcome to work ahead and submit work at any time. There is no extra credit. There is no penalty for late work, but all work and your final project must be submitted by Sunday, December 6 at 11:59 pm.

Make-up Assignments for Authorized University Event or Co-curricular Activities

Students who represent the university at an authorized event or activity (for example, student athletes) and who are unable to meet a course deadline due to a conflict with that event must provide the instructor with documentation in advance to arrange a make-up. No penalty will be applied if the student gives advance notice and communicates with the instructor following UCF policy. In the case of an authorized university activity, it is your responsibility to show the instructor a signed copy of the Program Verification Form for which you will be absent, prior to the class in which the absence occurs or due date you need extended. For more information, see UCF Policy 4-401.

Make-up Assignments for Religious Observances

A student who desires to observe a religious holy day of his or her religious faith must notify their instructor as soon as practicable prior to the observance. Students who are absent because of religious observances will be permitted a reasonable amount of time to complete any missed work. For more information, see UCF Regulation 5-020.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Use Policy

Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI) is governed on an assignment-by-assignment basis. For each assignment, you must carefully review the instructions to determine whether AI-generated content is permitted. In some cases, you may be permitted (though not required) to use GenAI. When using GenAI, you must disclose specifically where and how it was used in the process of completing the assignment. Unless explicitly allowed, all components of your work must be fully prepared by you. It should also be cited. For example, text generated from Copilot should include a citation such as: "Copilot. Accessed 2023-12-03. Prompt: 'Summarize the Geneva Convention in 50 words.' Generated using Copilot." Any attempt to represent GenAI output inappropriately as your own work will be treated as plagiarism. Ultimately, students are responsible for the accuracy and veracity of submitted work whether AI-generated or not.

Disability Access & Accommodations

The University of Central Florida is committed to providing equal access to all students with disabilities (ADHD, learning disabilities, Autism, chronic medical conditions, physical disabilities, etc.). To receive consideration for reasonable disability-related course accommodations, disabled students must contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) and complete the steps required for SAS to review accommodation requests. More information can be found on the UCF Student Accessibility Services website under the Start Here tab or by contacting SAS directly (Ferrell Commons 185; sas@ucf.edu; Phone - 407-823-2371).

Approved accommodations are shared with course instructors via the SAS Course Accessibility Letter. Implementing certain accommodations may require discussion about specific considerations of the course design, course learning objectives, and the individual academic and course challenges experienced by the student. While students with disabilities or chronic health needs are also encouraged to discuss any course concerns with professors in addition to contacting SAS, professors are not required to facilitate disability-related adjustments to the course unless the professor has received a Course Accessibility Letter from SAS that outlines approved accommodations.

Academic Integrity

Students should familiarize themselves with UCF's Code of Conduct at Student Conduct and Integrity Office. According to Section 1, "Academic Misconduct," students are prohibited from engaging in:

1. Academic misconduct is defined as any submitted work or behavior that obstructs the instructor of record's ability to accurately assess the student's understanding or completion of course materials or degree requirements (e.g., assignment, quiz, and/or exam). Examples of academic misconduct include but are not limited to: plagiarism, unauthorized assistance to complete an academic exercise; unauthorized communication with others during an examination, course assessment, or project; falsifying or misrepresenting academic work; providing misleading information to create a personal advantage to complete course/degree requirements; or multiple submission(s) of academic work without permission of the instructor of record.
2. Any student who knowingly helps another violate academic behavior standards is also in violation of the standards.
3. Commercial Use of Academic Material. Selling of course material to another person and/or uploading course material to a third-party vendor without authorization or without the express permission of the University and the instructor of record. Course materials include but are not limited to class notes, the instructor of record's slide deck, tests, quizzes, labs, instruction sheets, homework, study guides, and handouts.
4. Soliciting assistance with academic coursework and/or degree requirements. The solicitation of assistance with an assignment, lab, quiz, test, paper, etc., without authorization of the instructor of record or designee is prohibited. This includes but is not limited to asking for answers to a quiz, trading answers, or offering to pay another to complete an assignment. It is considered Academic Misconduct to solicit assistance with academic coursework and/or degree requirements, even if the solicitation did not yield actual assistance (for example, if there was no response to the solicitation).

Responses to Academic Dishonesty, Plagiarism, or Cheating

Students should also familiarize themselves with the procedures for academic misconduct in UCF's student handbook, The Golden Rule. UCF faculty members have a responsibility for students' education and the value of a UCF degree, and so seek to prevent unethical behavior and respond to academic misconduct when necessary. Penalties for violating rules, policies, and instructions within this course can range from a zero on the exercise to an "F" letter grade in the course. In addition, an Academic Misconduct report could be filed with the Office of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity, which could lead to disciplinary warning, disciplinary probation, or deferred suspension or separation from the University through suspension, dismissal, or expulsion with the addition of a "Z" designated on one's transcript.

Being found in violation of academic conduct standards could result in a student having to disclose such behavior on a graduate school application, being removed from a leadership position within a student organization, the recipient of scholarships, participation in University activities such as study abroad, internships, etc.

Let's avoid all of this by demonstrating values of honesty, trust, and integrity. No grade is worth compromising your integrity and moving your moral compass. Stay true to doing the right thing: take the zero, not a shortcut.

Title IX

Title IX prohibits sex discrimination, including sexual misconduct, sexual violence, sexual harassment, and retaliation. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can find resources available to support the victim, including confidential resources and information concerning reporting options at Let's Be Clear and UCF Cares.

For more information on access and community engagement, Title IX, accessibility, or UCF's complaint processes contact:

- Title IX – ONAC – Office of Nondiscrimination & Accommodations Compliance & askanadvocate@ucf.edu
- Disability Accommodation – Student Accessibility Services – Student Accessibility Services & sas@ucf.edu
- Access and Community Engagement (including the Ginsberg Center for Inclusion and Community Engagement, Military and Veteran Student Success, and HSI Initiatives)
- UCF Compliance and Ethics Office – Compliance, Ethics, and Risk Office & complianceandethics@ucf.edu
- The Ombuds Office is a safe place to discuss concerns.

Reporting an Incident or Issue

If you believe you have experienced discrimination by any faculty or staff member, contact the Office of Nondiscrimination & Accommodations Compliance via the ONAC website or at 407-823-1336. You can also choose to report using the UCF Integrity Line either anonymously or as yourself at 1-855-877-6049 or by using the online form. UCF cares about you and takes every report seriously. For more information see the Reporting an Incident or Issue Webpage.

Deployed Active-Duty Military Students

Students who are deployed active-duty military and/or National Guard personnel and require accommodation should contact their instructors as soon as possible after the semester begins and/or after they receive notification of deployment to make arrangements.

Campus Safety

At UCF's Public Safety and Police, safety is the top priority. Emergencies on campus are rare, but if one should arise, it's important to be familiar with some basic safety and security concepts.

- In an emergency, always dial 911.
- Every UCF Classroom has an Emergency Procedure Guide posted on a wall near the door, which will show you how to respond to a variety of situations. This guide can also be found online here.
- In the event of an active threat, remember AVOID, DENY, DEFEND. Choose the best course of action and act immediately. Watch the video here to learn more.
 - AVOID. Pay attention to your surroundings and have an exit plan. Get as much distance and as many barriers between you and the threat as quickly as possible.
 - DENY. When avoiding is difficult or impossible, deny the threat access to you and your space. Lockdown by creating barriers, turning the lights off and remaining quiet and out of sight. Make sure your phone is silenced, but do not turn it off.
 - DEFEND. When you are unable to put distance between yourself and the threat, be prepared to protect yourself. Commit to your actions, be aggressive and do not fight fairly. Do whatever it takes to survive.
- For emergencies on campus, UCF will utilize the UCF Alert system. All UCF students, faculty, and staff are automatically enrolled to receive these email and text alerts, however, it's a good idea to frequently ensure your contact information is up to date.

Financial Aid Accountability

All instructors are required to document students' academic activity at the beginning of each course. In order to document that you began this course, please complete this activity by the end of the first week of classes or as soon as possible after adding the course. Failure to do so may result in a delay in the disbursement of your financial aid.
